STEAM at Home!

LOADS of FUN!

Thank you, parents, for your enthusiastic participation in our very first STEAM at Home event. I’ve learned from watching your posts that FWE kids make GREAT teachers and you parents are hilarious! Thank you for enriching our lives this week.
To promote more women in STEAM careers, FWE has begun a new program for girls in grades 3 and 4. Each month, a female in a STEAM career will talk with our female students about their career and involve the students in a hands-on activity. Our hope is that through early exposure to STEAM in the classroom, STEAM speakers for females, and acknowledging the gender stereotypes we have about women as scientists, engineers, and mathematicians, the more likely our students will be to pursue a STEAM career.

Last month, Meredith Montgomery, Natural Awakenings Publisher, focused on how art and technology are tied together. The girls had a wonderful time creating a mockup of FWE Girls in STEAM digital magazine. We look forward to sharing more Girls in STEAM presentations!
