Reminders & Shout-Outs

- 2023 is here! Our teachers will be working hard to review procedures with your children over the next two weeks. Students thrive on routine and benefit from a dependable schedule before, during, and after school. In this new year, let us all commit to going to bed early, eating a healthy breakfast, getting to school on time, and focusing on our growth goals.
- Shout-out to our Delta PTO! The Holiday Talent Show was amazing! Thank you to our PTO for putting on such a well-organized and entertaining event. Please try to attend our next PTO meeting, January 9, 6:00 pm.

Delta Success Day

- Second Quarter Delta Success Day is January 6. Parents are invited to attend celebrations during scheduled times in classrooms. We will celebrate students' attainment of individualized growth targets, Honor Roll, and Perfect Attendance.

E-Learning Day

- Our second semester E-Learning Day will be Tuesday, January 17, the day following the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday. Students will not report to campus January 17, so teachers will not take attendance on that day. All students will be marked as "present" at home.
- As a reminder, the goal of an E-Learning Day is for students to maintain confidence in accessing digital learning at home should the need arise.
- Your child's teacher will be in contact with you to inform you of student expectations. Students will be given assignments to complete using their Chromebooks at home. Teachers will not host live lessons January 17, as they will be in professional development sessions throughout the day. However, you may email questions to your child's teacher. Please be patient as she will respond as time allows.
- All Chromebooks will go home with students Friday, January 13, in preparation for E-Learning Day.
- If you are unable to connect to the internet at home, inform your child's teacher by January 12, so that she may download necessary files onto your child's Chromebook prior to January 13.
